

The 28th works for me. I will fill out the sheet and have it done by Friday. I have to figure out how large everything will be and get boxes!

Hi Jory,

I hope you are doing well and having a great day.

I wanted to follow up with you in respects to your move.

Unfortunately, if we do the pickup March 2nd it will not make the departure of the 2-7th as the truck will actually be departing March 1-5 and from the actual departure date it will then take about 1-6 days for delivery with a day's notice of arrival.

We have February 28th available for a pickup, if this will work, it will ensure to make the March 1-5 departure.

If this works for you, I would be happy to provide a more accurate quote to ensure we are reserving the adequate space if the shipment is over 1000 lbs. attached is an inventory form. This will allow us to get a better idea of the weight as well as the dimensions of the items.

I look forward to your reply.
